JUNE 2015

TIMBERLANE REGIONAL SCHOOL DISTRICT

A newsletter from the Timberlane School Board

"You can't imagine what is waiting for you after you cross this stage … The most important things aren't learned sitting down."

Salutatorian Margaret Miller

Congratulations Class of 2015

On a perfect June day, 309 Timberlane Regional High School seniors were handed their diplomas, recognized for their compassion and achievement, and challenged to be excellent in their futures.

These graduates were accepted into an impressive 186 different schools, colleges, and universities including Dartmouth College, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Fordham, NYU, and College of William and Mary. For a complete list of the schools, colleges and universities, see Page 4.

Thank you to Susan Ober of Geskus Photography for the graduation photos in this newsletter. A full slideshow of her graduation photos can be seen at http://bit.ly/1JoP8St.

The complete graduation video can be viewed at https://vimeo.com/channels/trhs.

"Choose to be excellent in everything that you do, just like you did in your years at Timberlane."

Pollard a finalist for best in state

Congratulations to Pollard School in Plaistow for being named a finalist for the New Hampshire Excellence in Education Best Elementary School Award.

"Pollard School is very deserving of its recent recognition as a finalist for the Excellence in Education Award as they always put students first," said School Superintendent Dr. Earl Metzler. "Additionally, they have built a culture of community involvement and support of great magnitude. I am very proud of the leadership, the instructional and support staff as well as the families and community members who continually contribute to the school; they are certainly deserving of this recognition."

Plaistow School Board representative Peter Bealo gave his thanks to

DANVILLE ELEMENTARY

Around the world in a day

Danville Elementary students went "Around the World in One Day" as part of their Enrichment Day.

In every classroom, there was a different culture and activity. There was Japanese Origami, Canadian paper football, English Dance, Chinese New Year, and so much more. Students were also treated to an incredible performance by multi-instrumentalist musician Randy Armstrong. Photos of this event can be found on the Timberlane Facebook page.

ATKINSON ACADEMY

Thank you to Freshwater Farms and Miss Rhonda for hosting Atkinson Academy second-graders who were learning about plants. They learned about trees, annuals and perennials, and had a blast smelling and tasting some herbs.

POLLARD

Principal Michelle Auger.

"The Pollard School award is long deserved," Bealo said. "Michelle Auger has worked wonders at Pollard and this is a reflection of her efforts and successes."

Plaistow School Board representative Sue Sherman called Pollard the "best example of community."

"Caring staff and families who work for what is best for kids — that equals success," Sherman said. "Being recognized as a finalist is an honor but everyone at Pollard knows they are the best! Congrats!"

Last year, Timberlane Regional High School won best high school in the state. Timberlane Regional Middle School won best middle school in 2010.

SANDOWN NORTH

Speed-painting at Sandown

Sandown North students were treated to an incredible guest — artist Rob Surrette. During his "Be Somebody" presentation, he speed-painted several large portraits of such heroes as Martin Luther King Jr., Abraham Lincoln, and Albert Einstein. And what is more amazing? Rob will be Sandown North's artist in residence next year!

AP Art students design totem pole for courtyard

TRHS AP Art students created a totem pole for the courtyard, choosing their own spirit animal based on the characteristics they identified most with.

Here are the animals the students chose and the characteristics they identified with:

Hannah Locke: Wolf (protector, self-reliant)

Hannah Marden: Panda (peaceful, determined)

Rachel Lewis: Elk (majestic, powerful)

Giselle Pimentel: Lioness (caring, nurturing)

Rebecca Sands: Bear (courage, confidence, healer)

Isabella Theberge: Giraffe (gentle, graceful, athletic)

Sarah Heckman: Raven (powerful, playful)

Abby Huberdeau: Tiger (strength, devotion)

'Oh, the places they'll go...'
