

Dear TRMS Families,

Happy Friday and welcome to Trimester 2! As unique as this year has been, our TRMS community remains strong and we are enjoying getting to know your children, working with them in-person and remotely, and keeping things as normal as they can be given current circumstances.

Over the next few weeks, APs will be meeting with students to check-in, remind them of procedures and expectations, and continue to build Tiger Pride across our student body. Additionally, we'll be reaching out to you and to students about some ideas to keep students engaged with and connected to their peers and their learning, regardless of their cohort or class schedule.

We'd like to welcome to the building our students who have returned to cohort 1 or 2 from cohort 3 with a special shout out to those who are brand new to TRMS. Welcome, (new) Tigers! We've worked hard as a school team to transition students back into the building. We know that transitions can seem daunting—be sure to let us know if you have any questions about our building, procedures, class schedules, or anything at all.

For reference, attached to this email are Trimester 2 schedules for each grade level; please note that team lunch times change as of Monday, 12/14 for the duration of the trimester.

As we navigate the winter months, please keep your student home if he or she isn't feeling well. Resources for families can be found here: <https://www.timberlane.net/covid19-students/>

Thank you for your support. We remain thankful for the opportunity to work with our TRMS students every day!

Sincerely,

TRMS Administrators
